Kevin & Matt-

It's finally starting to happen... I was hoping to have the actual po# in-hand, by now, but I couldn't wait any longer and just wanted to let you both know that this business is officially coming our way! Espen said they are working on finalizing the po#'s and coordinating getting the PET film delivered, asap.

In addition, www.dinnerthyme.com website will soon be featuring this packaging innovation prominently as part of their ongoing, national marketing efforts. Have a great weekend!!

Hey Chris I just want you to know I just closed DinnerThyme.

Boom.

I will have another deal for you as well within 1 week - NurtureLife, the one we have worked so hard on.

We will work out the logistics with you in the next couple of days for DinnerThyme.

Thanks for the call today as well with Sal, I know we are going to be able to work all this stuff out - I think we all knew this first one was going to be a bit challenging.

I will get you some material as well as get you some film so we can start custom printing these badboys.

Thanks again for your time and hard work and now the fun part begins.

Espen
